A treasure of health became the university

Published: 20 Oct 2026

Although Jiwaji University is the oldest higher education institution in the region, these days it is also becoming popular as a treasure of health. Its campus, now covered with greenery, has become a favorite spot for people who go for morning walks every day. The people coming here in the morning and evening are impressed by the greenery. Every day, those visiting in the morning and evening get fresh air, and the university's sports department is also busy training players in this campus. Many pathways in the campus are so covered with dense trees that people coming here spend hours sitting and improving their health.

The university management has undertaken several important initiatives to make this campus a plastic and polythene-free zone.
