Jiwaji Club: Raju Kukreja and Dr. Neeraj Kaul are strong contenders for the president's post

Published: 23 Oct 2026

- Among others, Dr. O.P. Gupta, Amrit Maheshwari, and Ajay Garg Boby are in the discussion

Gwalior. The elections of the Jiwaji Club, Gwalior, have been announced. The elections are scheduled for December 20, and the nomination process may start around Diwali. But the candidates of the Jiwaji Club have already become more active, with meetings happening daily in various rooms of the club. New names are coming up. Right now, the most debate is about the names for the president’s post.

For the president’s post, the two strongest names that have emerged in the top 2 are Raju Kukreja and Dr. Neeraj Kaul. The current team of the Jiwaji Club and former office bearers agree on these two names. The reason is that both Raju Kukreja and Dr. Neeraj Kaul are well-known and popular names, who have the complete trust of the club members. But the biggest problem is that both are friends and both want to contest for the president’s post.

Raju Kukreja: Now talking about Raju Kukreja, he was a student of MLB College, has an extensive network, a long list of friends, and is very close to the current president, Raju Seth. He is so popular at Jeevaji Club that he has served as secretary once and as the club's successful president twice. He won the president's position once unopposed and once with the most votes. Because of his high number of votes, the deposits of the other candidates were even forfeited. Regarding this, Raju Kukreja says that he is ready for the election after discussing with his friends. He said that at Jeevaji Club, work speaks for itself, and whenever he held a position, he worked generously for everyone. He did not discriminate against anyone. He also got a lot of work done at Jeevaji Club, which is visible to everyone.

Dr. Neeraj Kaul: Dr. Neeraj Kaul is a doctor by profession, and his family's social circle is very wide, which gives him influence in the club. He is counted among the better people of the club. Dr. Neeraj Kaul has previously completed a remarkable tenure as secretary in the Jeevaji Club. This time, he intends to contest for the position of president. But it is also certain that Raju Kukreja and Dr. Neeraj Kaul are good friends, and only one of them will run in the election. When this correspondent asked Dr. Neeraj Kaul over the phone about contesting the election, he said, 'Let’s see what happens ahead.' He mentioned that he will move forward based on the advice of his friends.

Other contenders include O.P. Gupta, Amrit Maheshwari, and Ajay Garg Boby

For the president's position, other contenders that have come forward are Dr. O.P. Gupta from Shanta Nursing Home, real estate businessman Amrit Maheshwari, and Ajay Garg Babi. However, Dr. O.P. Gupta and real estate businessman Amrit Maheshwari were never particularly active in the Jeevaji Club and haven't been able to do much socially either, which limits their reach. Amrit Maheshwari had even shifted to Indore for his real estate business. Now he wants to come to Gwalior and contest for the president's position at Jeevaji Club so that he can establish glory and prominence as president.

Along similar lines, Ajay Garg Boby, who lost the election for the secretary position, is also eyeing the president's post like a treat and dreaming of the election. He has been a joint secretary once. But he will need to build easy rapport with the club members; only then will he be able to get through the election. Anyway, Jeevaji Club elections can only be won by winning hearts.
