Gwalior. There's still a lot of time left for the elections at Jeevaji Club, but politics has already started here just like the BJP-Congress politics in the Lok Sabha elections. Now look at the situation: Madhur Mittal, who was going to win the joint secretary post, has been forced into the seat, even though he was fully prepared to contest the elections and had already started his campaign. He had already got his posters, hoardings, pamphlets, and other campaign materials made.

According to the information, the other day Gagan Bhalla organized a party at Usha Kiran Palace and Madhur Mittal also attended. There, supporters of Jitendra Jaju, who is contesting for the position of joint secretary, along with Aka Ashutosh Maheshwari, Raju Chadha, and Amrit Maheshwari, pressured Madhur Mittal not to contest the elections and said that it wouldn’t be good if he did. Madhur Mittal was also told that if he didn’t contest, Jitendra Jaju would win unopposed. It should be mentioned that Madhur Mittal is extremely frustrated by this pressure and is feeling mental stress because of it. He has shared this whole story with his friends, and his friends are in favor of him contesting the elections. It is worth noting that Madhur Mittal is the son of Kailash Chandra Mittal, the well-known social worker and businessman who was the president of the Sanatan Dharma Mandal, and he is very popular in the Vaishya community. Meanwhile, it has also been found that a similar atmosphere of pressure is being created for the president's post as well.
