Mobile businessman disappeared overnight with 7 crore, sold his house and shop

Published: 24 Nov 2026

Gwalior. The spree of traders running away with huge sums of money from Gwalior continues. On Tuesday, a mobile trader from Gwalior disappeared overnight with more than 4 crore rupees. This amount was linked to various mobile brands, which were due from different mobile distributors for the mobiles purchased. The mobile trader's name is Amit Havalani, who ran a showroom called Mobile Plus in Rajiv Plaza, Jayendraganj. With the trader disappearing overnight, chaos broke out among the mobile distributors, and all the traders kept calling each other to get details of the case. The Inderganj police have taken notice of the matter and have started searching for Amit Havalani, who ran away with the traders' money.

Mobile trader Amit Havlani's disappearance was noticed on Tuesday morning when his shop was found empty. When the shop was empty, mobile distributors called Amit Havlani, but his phone was switched off. After that, the traders went to his house in Sewanagar, but found it locked as well. This left the traders shocked, and they started searching for him, but neither Amit Havlani nor his family could be traced. After this, the robbed mobile traders went to Inderanjan police station and informed the police. The Inderanjan police took cognizance of the matter and have started searching for Amit Havlani, who fled with the traders' money. Mobile traders Nitin Kalani, Sandeep, and Yogesh filed a complaint with the police against Amit Havlani for running away with 4 crore rupees. Meanwhile, some other traders say that Amit Havlani ran away after committing fraud worth more than 7 crore rupees. After Amit's escape, when traders gathered information, it was found that he had sold his shop and house.
